

Figure A1.4. Plot of z-scores for independent contributions (I) of the human land use gradient, ecoregion, and lake to measures of functional and taxonomic diversity based on 100 randomizations using hier.part package in R. The green horizontal line represents the upper 95% confidence value for the Z-scores (1.65) and is used as an indication of statistical significance.

